GUN-MAKING IN CHINA.

Every Form of Munition of War, from Rifles to Heavy Artillery, Made by Natives.

A correspondent of the Lahore Civil and Military Gazette visited one of the Chinese arsenals and thus put down his impressions: "Finally we were taken, among other places, to the great Chinese arsenal some way beyond treaty limits, where every form of munition of war, from rifles to 45-ton guns, was being made. We wandered through a wilderness of factories, covering acres of ground, and were shown the whole process of manufacture. And there were powder factories and other institutions not far away which we had no train? What day? What blooming time to visit. That was, perhaps, the idiots there are in the world." most significant experience of all. You have you seen a place turning out from Pittsburg to Memphis. A QUEER TRADE.

The Hot Pepper Seller of Mexico--His Hat as Costly as Rest of His Wardrobe.

The "hot-pepper" seller of Mexico is from the fact that the Mexican must have his peppers, whatever else he may deny himself, says Everybody's Magazine. They are brought to his door by market-place and find them spread out for sale on matting. The market-man, tirely unprofitable. while dressed inexpensively as far as his bodily garb is concerned, wears in head-covering. Some of these Mexicans of the Portuguese onion-seller. WANT OF ACCURACY.

Telegrams and Letters Often Lack Important Information Essential to the Message.

It is singular how much trouble is tail, says the Pittsburg Times. One day a man in Pittsburg received a telegram from a friend who contemplated a visit to the city which read: "Meet me on the arrival of the train from Washington." It looks simple enough, but the man who received it swore. Funny, wasn't it? Why did he not go and meet his friend? "The train from Washington," said the man. "What train? What railroad? Day or night

An exceptional case? Possibly. may have seen gun factories before, but Here is another: A woman was going great guns by the dozen, and machine to her sister in Memphis: "We will head mandarin, entirely by Chinese, and ther. Will leave there on Saturday morning and arrive at your home Frigaged solely in consultative supervision? day evening." The sister at Memphis assiduously getting out the drawings for snarl before the journey was undertaken, or the Pittsburg woman would one to meet her and direct her where

GREAT SCHEMES.

Lord John Russell Once Proposed Digging Immense Hole-Plan to Extinguish Vesuvius.

Among great schemes may be included the proposition of Hon. Rollo Russell, a member of the British parliament, who a merchant who derives his livelihood advocated the building of immense walls to increase the rainfall in sterile City Salt just received. districts. The walls were to be so high that their tops would arrest the clouds and cause a downpour of rain, thereby the countryman, or he may go to the rendering fit for cultivation lands which are now good only for pasture or en-

A Stormy Christmas Predicted By Hicks.

The weather so far in December has corresponded closely with Prof. Irl R. Hicks' forecasts for the first week in the month.

Continuing Prof. Hicks says: On and touching the 10th and 11th will come a caused by the want of attention to de- very noticable reaction to warmeranother fall of the barometer will pass eastwardly across the country, merging into more storms of winter rain, turning to general snow.

The regular storm period, extending from 15th to 20th, will bring a decided fall of the barometer. The temperature will rise, winds will shift to southerly and easterly, and more storms of rain and snow will develop in western parts During the 18th 20th, these storms will pass over the country to the Atlantic. Rains to the southward turning to sleet and snow northward may be expected, followed by win'ry gales and cold wave.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 22d and 23d. Well defined storms of rain, wind and snow on and about this period may be expected. Another cold wave will follow, during which the mercury will fall very low and the cold will peretrate quite far into the south.
